

MID-WEEK PICTORIAL

AN ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY PUBLISHED BY The New York Times COMPANY
VOL. XII, NO. 18, DECEMBER 30, 1920. PRICE TEN CENTS
SUBSCRIPTION $5 A YEAR. (CANADA $6 A YEAR.) (CANADA 15 CENTS)

The New Year Girl

Specially posed by Miss Dorothy Gish for The Mid-Week Pictorial.

(Photo by Edward Thayer Mowbray.)

From Far and Near; Notable Events Illustrated

DREDGING FOR GOLD

Huge dredge of the Alaska Mine Corporation near Nome, Alaska. It can handle about 1,500 cubic yards of gold-bearing gravel every day.

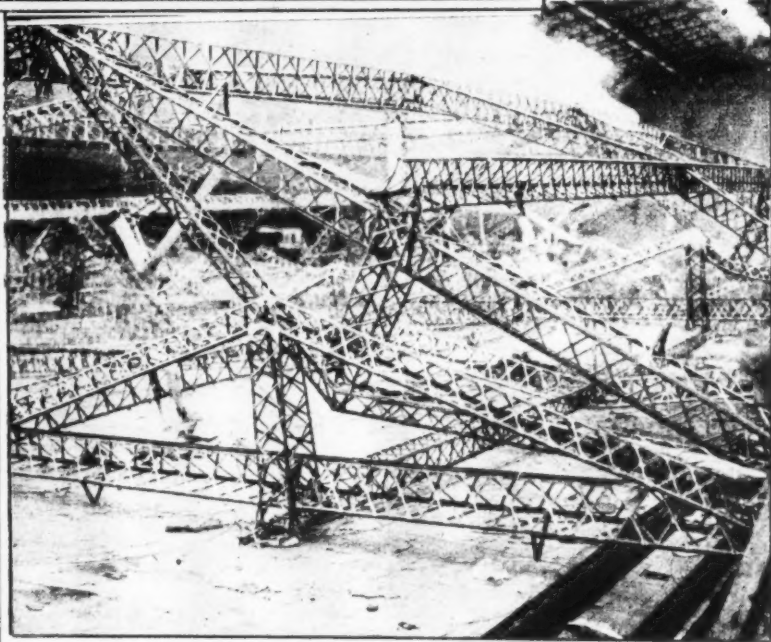

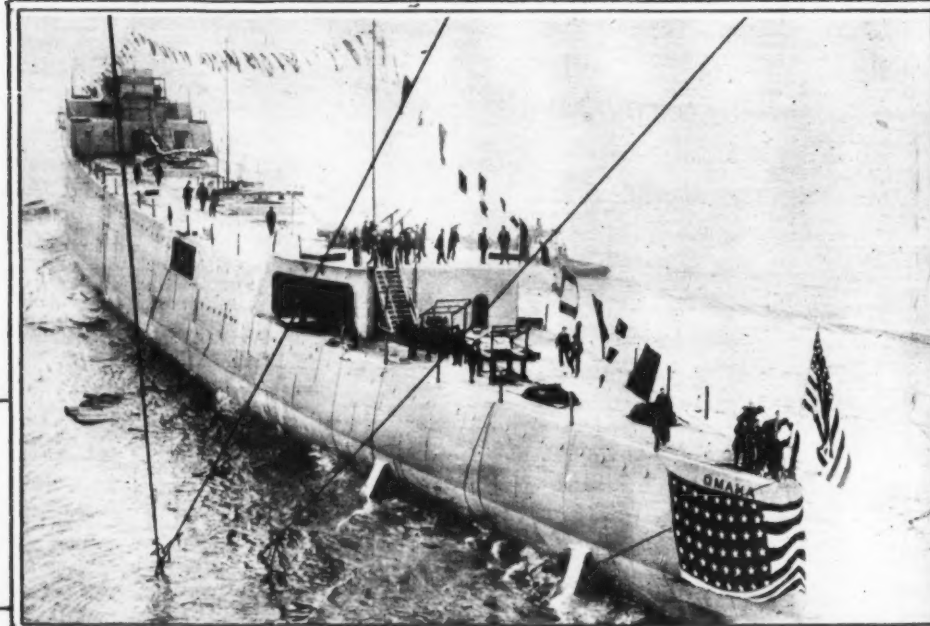

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

TONS OF LEMONS WASTED

Lemons by the hundreds of thousands thrown on a dump heap at San Fernando, Cal., because the raise in freight rates has made it unprofitable to ship the fruit east. The total cost of picking, hauling, packing and freight is about $3.25 and the product only brings $2.50 to $3.50 in Eastern markets.

(Amateur photo from J. E. Hogg.)

NEW SCOUT CRUISER

The newest United States scout cruiser Omaha being launched at Tacoma, Wash. She is 550 feet long and has a speed of 35 knots.

(© International.)

STRIPPED ZEPPELIN

All that remains of the surrendered German Zeppelin L. Z. 69. She was assigned to the Japanese, but they removed only essential parts and abandoned the framework.

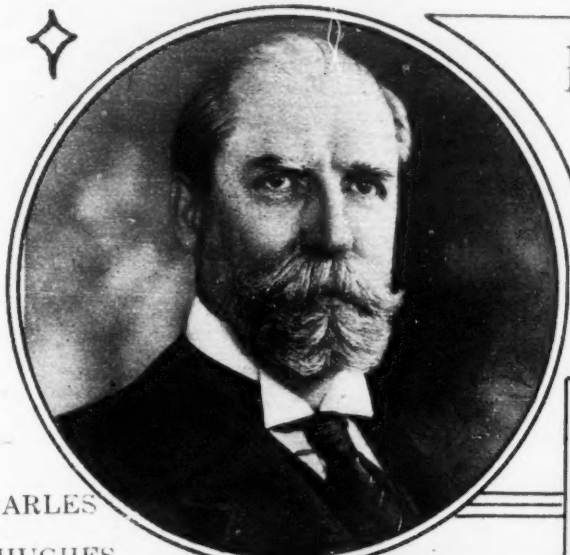

Giant Lawson air liner for passenger and freight service between New York and Chicago. The plane has sleeping berths, a bathroom containing a shower, and accommodation for 34 passengers. It can also carry 1,500 pounds of mail and merchandise. It has three 400 horsepower engines, a wing spread of 112 feet and a speed of 120 miles an hour.

(© International.)

NOTICE TO AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHERS:—The MID-WEEK PICTORIAL will pay $10 for the best photographic print of any big event in the United States or Canada of the week's news taken by an amateur photographer. The editors will make the choice. Any other submitted prints used will be paid for at $2 each. Prints not used will be returned only if postage is sent. Send the prints unmounted, any size. Address The MID-WEEK PICTORIAL, Room 1708, Times Building, Times Square, New York City.

"Best Minds" Conference at President-Elect's Home

CHARLES
E. HUGHES
Ex-Supreme Court
Justice.
WM. J.
BRYAN
Ex-Secretary of State.

DURING the progress of the Presidential campaign Senator Harding frequently declared that if elected he would take counsel with the best minds of the country regarding national problems irrespective of party affiliations. He reiterated the promise after his election, and in the last few weeks has been carrying the pledge into effect. Marion, Ohio, the home of the President-elect, has been the Mecca toward which some of the most eminent men in the country have made pilgrimage. That party lines have not been a barrier to consultation is shown by the pictures herewith presented of those who have been invited, which include many Democrats of national prominence.

WM.
H.
TAFT
Ex-President
of U. S.

J. K. SHIELDS
Democratic Senator from Tennessee.

W. C. SPROUL
Rep. Governor of Pennsylvania.

JAMES
A.
REED
Dem.
Senator
from Missouri.

ELIHU ROOT
former Secretary of State.

Home of President-elect Harding at Marion, Ohio.

HENRY C. LODGE
Republican Senator from Massachusetts.

FRANK B.
WILLIS
Rep. Senator-elect from Ohio.

CHARLES G.
DAWES
Ex-Comptroller of the Currency.

WM.
E.
BORAH
Republican Senator from Idaho.

HIRAM W.
JOHNSON
Rep. Senator from California.

ALBERT B.
FALL
Rep. Senator from
New Mexico.

H. C.
WALLACE
Editor from Des Moines,
Iowa.

MILES
POIN-
DEXTER
Rep. Senator from Washington.

OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD
Democratic Senator from Alabama.

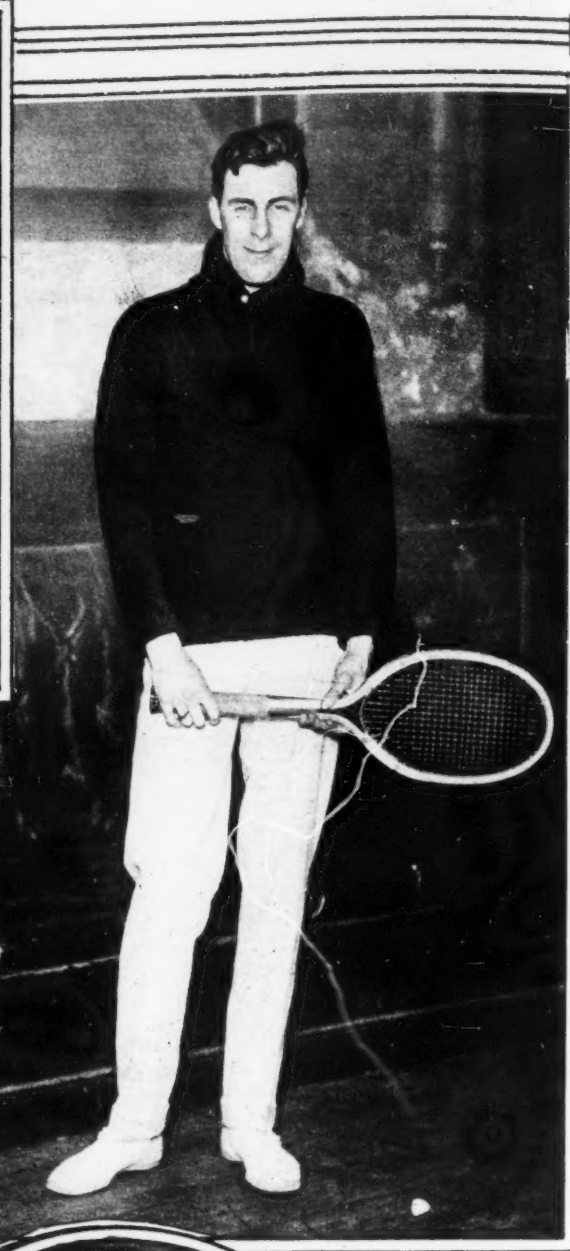

EDWIN P.
MORROW
Rep. Governor of Kentucky.

American Champions in the Leading Indoor and

WILLIAM HOPPE
whose title as champion of the billiard world was successfully defended against Schaefer and Cochran.
(© International.)

WILLIAM T. TILDEN 2nd who clinched the tennis championship by his victory over Johnston.

R. W. LANDON
winner of the high jump at the Olympic Games, where he made 6 feet 4 1-16 inches.

C. W. PADDOCK
who won the 100-meter race at the Olympic Games in 10 4-5 seconds.

LIEUT. B. W. MAYNARD
winner of the transcontinental air race from New York to San Francisco and return.

MAJOR R. SCHROEDER
holder of the world's altitude record. He rose in an airplane 36,020 feet.
(© Harris & Ewing.)

CLEVELAND BASEBALL TEAM
Baseball champions of 1920. The Clevelanders won the championship of the American League and then played the World's Series with the Brooklynns, the champions of the National League. The Brooklynns won two out of the first three games, and then the Clevelanders took four straight and the series.

Outdoor Sports for the Year Now Drawing to Its Close

MAN O' WAR
incomparable horse that shattered records and was the sensation of the racing season.

GASTON CHEVROLET
king of automobile racers, who met death in an accident at Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25.

EDWARD LEWIS
wrestler, who won the championship from Joe Stecher in New York Dec. 13.

THE RESOLUTE
which successfully defended the America's Cup against the efforts of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV. to reclaim it.

GEORGE H. ("BABE") RUTH
phenomenal home-run hitter, who made 54 home runs during the season, nearly doubling his previous year's record.

JACK DEMPSEY
(At right.) Champion pugilist as he appeared in his contest with Brennan, whom he defeated in twelve rounds.

TED RAY
English golfer, who beat all opponents in the open golf championship contest at Toledo, Ohio.

Destruction and Reprisal Still Rife in Ireland

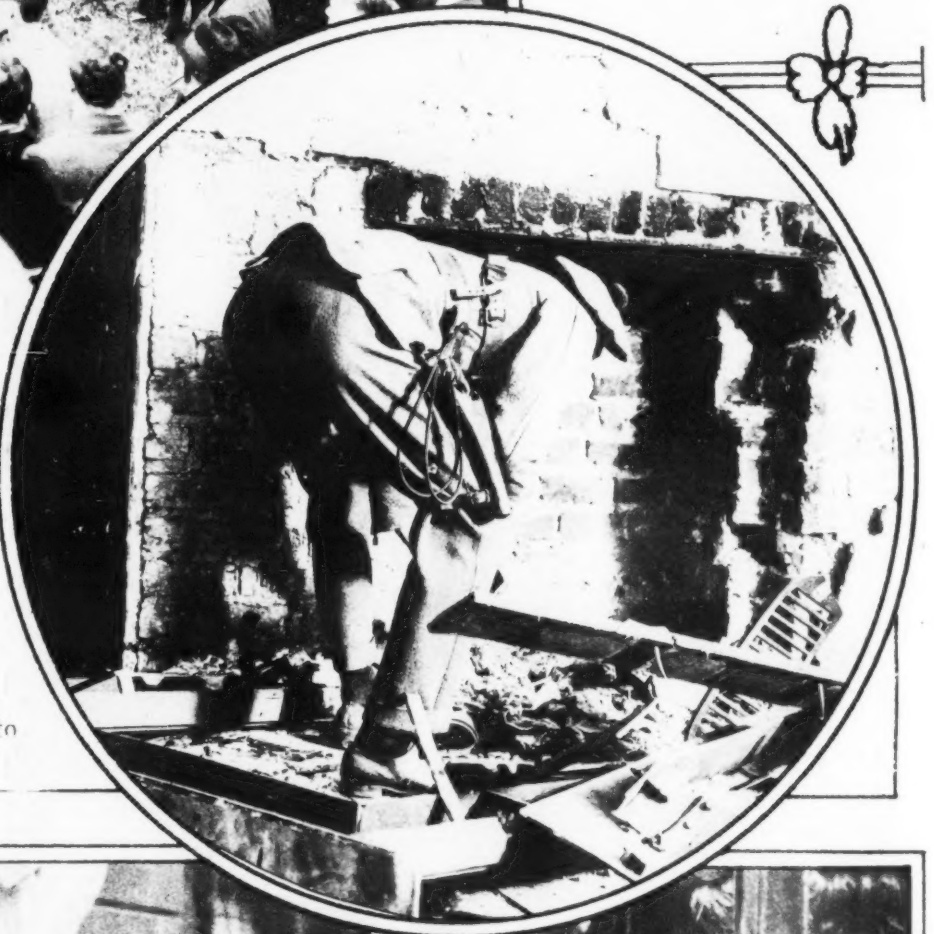

Funeral of Cadet Barnes at Sutton, England. He was one of the sixteen members of the Auxiliary Division ambushed and killed by Sinn Feiners near Macroom, Ireland. The firing party is seen firing a volley over his grave.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

Cadet searching one of the rooms of a suspect which was found to contain a revolver and hand grenade. A general tearing up and stripping of the room was necessary to a thorough search. In one place a perfect arsenal of arms was uncovered. Raids and searches are being carried out on a scale hitherto unknown.

(© International)

Auxiliary police carrying on surprise searches of civilians passing through Dublin streets. Any one found with weapons is taken at once to prison. As a rule the operation is carried on without resistance, which would be futile in any event. There is still no diminution apparent in the bitter feeling that exists between Irish civilians and the military forces of the British Government, and clashes involving deaths are of almost daily occurrence.

00006

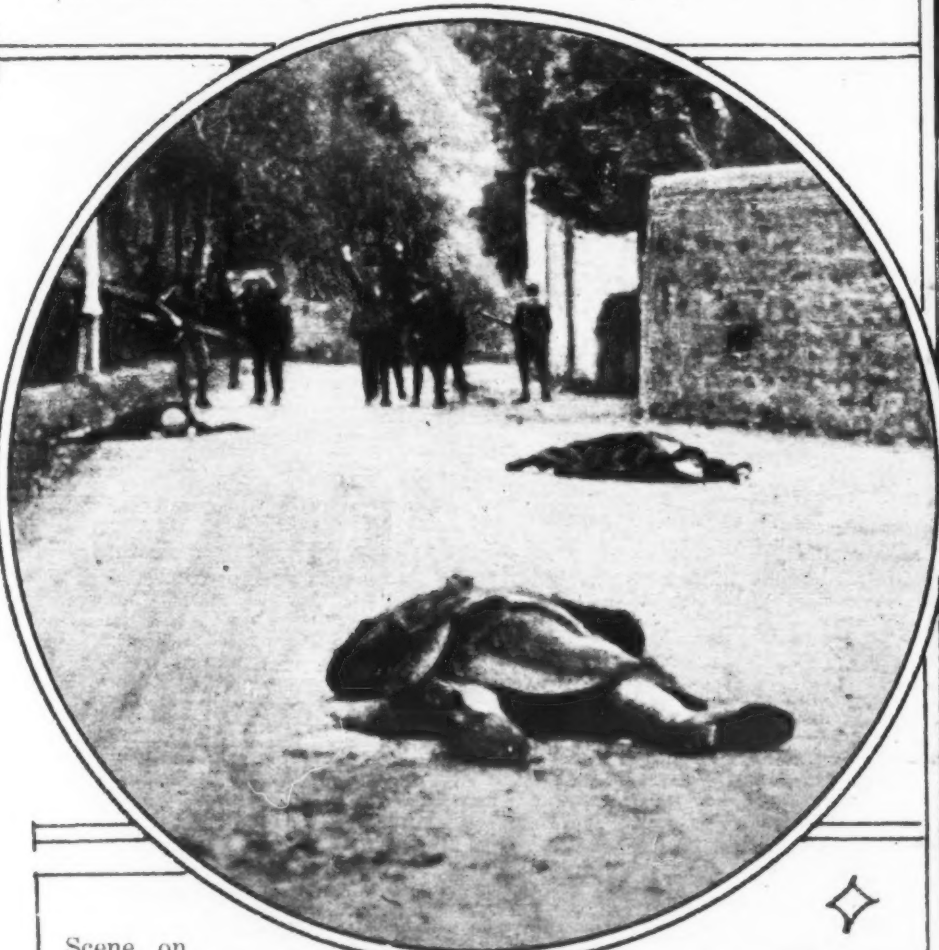

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

Mansion House in Dublin guarded by Auxiliary Cadets. Special steps were taken to guard this residence of British officials immediately following the assassination of fourteen officers on Nov. 21. The latter were hunted out in their homes and shot down. To prevent a recurrence of the deed, the officers are now living with their families in barracks.

(C. Wale World Photos.)

Scene on an Irish road where a fight had occurred between the Sinn Feiners and members of the Auxiliary Division of the Royal Irish Constabulary. Some on both sides were killed and many were wounded.

One of the pitiful scenes that have become increasingly common since reprisals have been instituted. Homeless women are mourning in the outskirts of a town that has been burned in revenge for the killing of soldiers and police.

Famine in China That Is Sweeping Five Provinces

Group of Chinese of all ages and both sexes waiting their turns to receive food tickets in one of the famine-ravaged provinces.

Pitiful figures of the famine sufferers. The rush shelter behind the people in the foreground is the only "home" this family has. Millions may perish.

Aged Chinese woman with the bowl in which she has been given the meagre rations that barely suffice to keep life in her withered frame.

ONE of the greatest famines that the world has ever known is reported to be raging in China. In five provinces, Chi-Li Shantung, Shan-Si, Shen-Si and Honan, thousands of deaths from starvation are occurring every day, and two other provinces, Ash-Wei and Kiang-Si, are badly affected by the almost total failure of the crops. More than 45,000,000 people are involved in the great calamity and it is said that 10,000,000 may die by Spring unless help is sent in unprecedented quantity. The China Famine Fund, with headquarters at the Bible House, New York City, is making a nation-wide appeal for help.

The only refuge that many of the famine sufferers have from Winter winds in a climate that frequently shows a temperature of 12 degrees below zero.

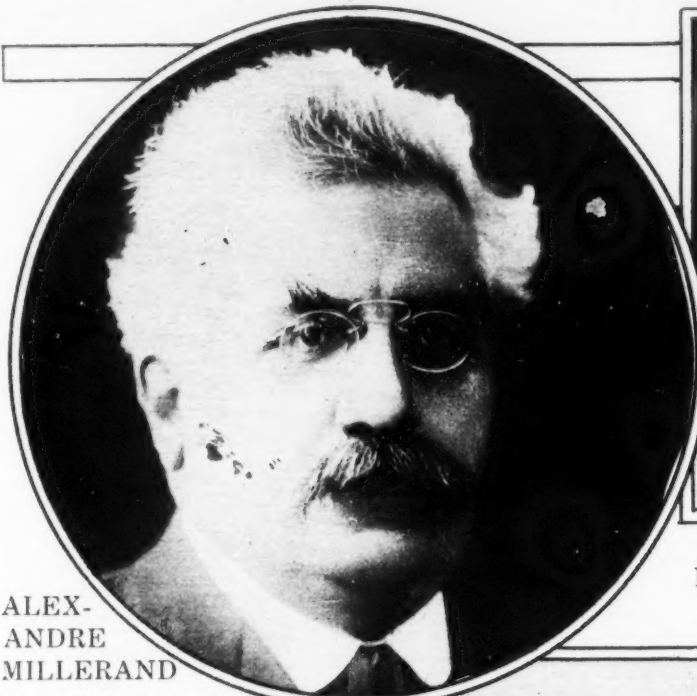

(Photos © Underwood & Underwood.)

Chinese girl who must be a mother to the little brother whom she is bringing to one of the relief stations established to help the starving people.

New Rulers, Presidents and Premiers of 1920

ALEX-ANDRE MILLERAND
President of France, chosen Sept. 23 to succeed Paul Deschanel, who resigned because of disability.

ALFREDO DE ZAYAS
President of Cuba, elected to succeed Menocal.

WARREN G. HARDING
chosen President of the United States Nov. 2 by the largest popular plurality (over 7,000,000) ever given a candidate.

PIAST WITOS
New Prime Minister of Poland and prominent in arranging treaty with Russia.

EMILIANO CHAMORRO
whose election as President of Nicaragua was announced Oct. 25.

NICHOLAS HORTHY
chosen March 1 as Protector of Hungary by the National Assembly.

GIUSEPPE MOTTA
President of Switzerland. He was a member of the Swiss delegation to the League of Nations Conference.

GEN. ALVARO OBREGON
President of Mexico, succeeding de la Huerta. Inaugurated Dec. 1.

M. STAM-BOLISKY
Prime Minister of Bulgaria. He was the only signer of the Bulgarian treaty.

ARTHUR MEIGHEN
Prime Minister of Canada, succeeding Sir Robert L. Borden. He is the youngest man that ever held that position.

PRINCE ARTHUR OF CONNAUGHT
Recently appointed Governor General of South Africa.

CONSTANTINE I.
King of Greece, who has just been recalled to the throne, following the death of his son, Alexander I.

BARON LOUIS DE GER
new Prime Minister of Sweden, following resignation of Branting.

GIOVANNI GIOLITTI
Italian Premier, who took office after resignation of Nitti Cabinet.

Events of National and International Interest Gathered

GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL FOR SUFFERING SOLDIERS
The Speedway Hospital, Chicago, recently purchased from Mr. Hines of the Hines Lumber Company, has been turned over to the Government to be used for suffering soldiers who are now crowding other hospitals.

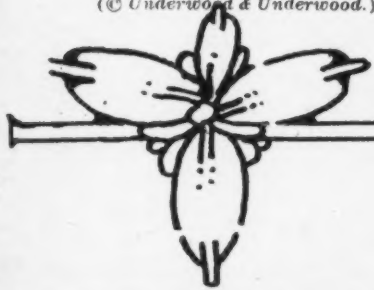

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

POWDER EXPLOSION IN ITALY

Havoc wrought by a great explosion of powder stores at Vergiate, Italy. The Rossi machinery factory was reduced to a mass of ruins by the explosion, which shook the country for miles around and caused many casualties.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

HONORING SLAIN DETECTIVES IN SAN FRANCISCO TRAGEDY
Funeral procession of Miles Jackson and Lester Dorman, detectives slain at Santa Rosa by gangsters, who were afterward lynched. The cortège is shown in front of the San Francisco City Hall.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

SPECIMEN OF IRISH ART
The "Ardagh Chalice," that dates back to the ninth or tenth century. It is of silver, with gold and enamel ornamentation and remarkably beautiful.

(© Wide World Photos.)

FUEL SHORTAGE IN BERLIN
Coal is scarce in Germany, owing largely to reparation demands, and people of Berlin are here shown gathering twigs and branches against the Winter.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

by the Camera From All Quarters of the World

TRENCH OF THE BAYONETS

Flowers on the memorial crosses of the soldiers who lie entombed in the Trench of the Bayonets, near Fort Douaumont, Verdun, France. It was here that a company of soldiers advancing to the attack were buried alive in a collapsing trench, their bayonets still protruding above the surface.

(© International.)

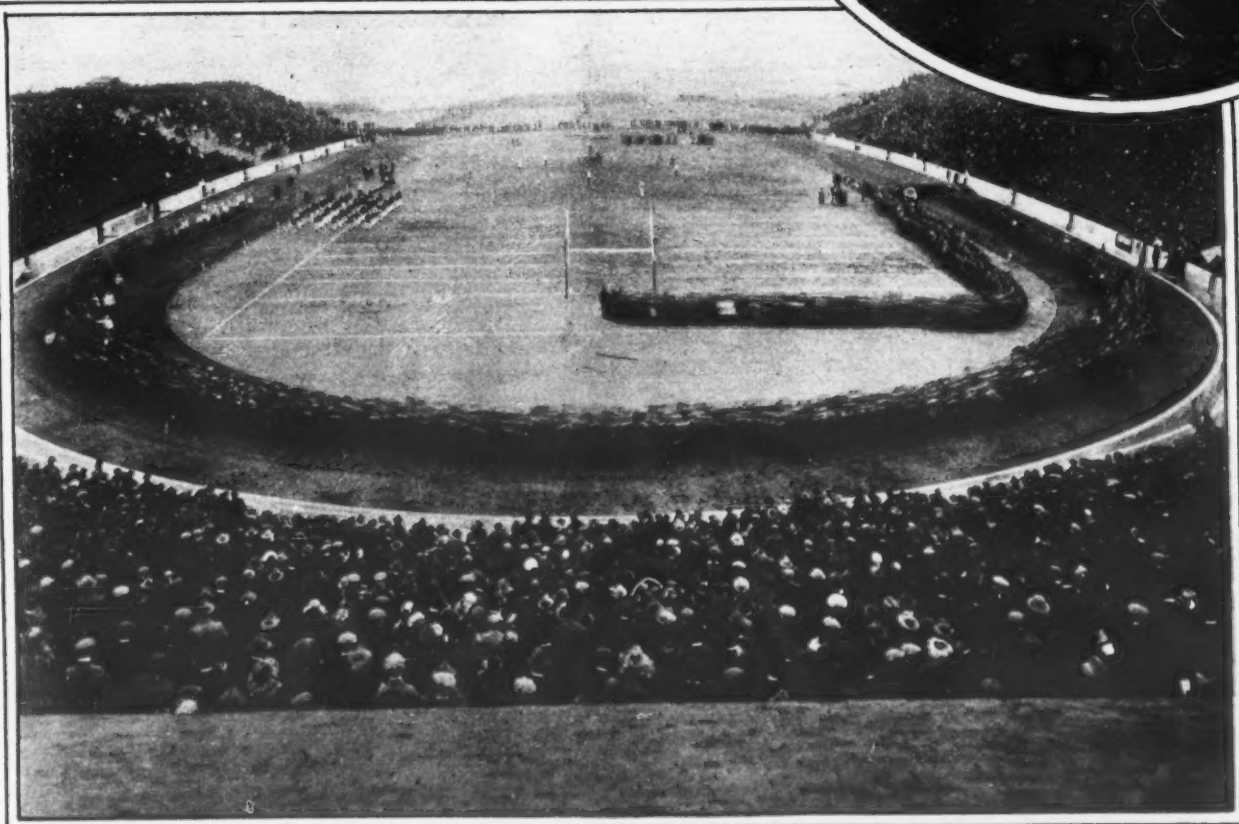

Monument built over the "Trench of the Bayonets" to honor the entombed soldiers whose fate powerfully stirred the French imagination. It is a massive structure and the funds for its erection were the gift of an American. It has been recently dedicated.

(© Keystone View Co.)

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY
STADIUM

Great new stadium of the University of Washington in Seattle, which was opened with a football game between Dartmouth and Washington, the former winning by 28 to 7. The Washington students are here seen doing a snake dance during the rest period.

(© International.)

KU-KLUX
RITUAL

Officers of the so-called Ku-Klux Klan, whose activities in Georgia have recently been noted in the news, going through their ritual near Atlanta, Ga.

(© Underwood &amp; Underwood.)

"Ladies' Night." John Cumberland, ready for all night off, is wondering whether the maid (Adele Rolland) is going to acquaint his wife with his escapades.

(Photo White Studio.)

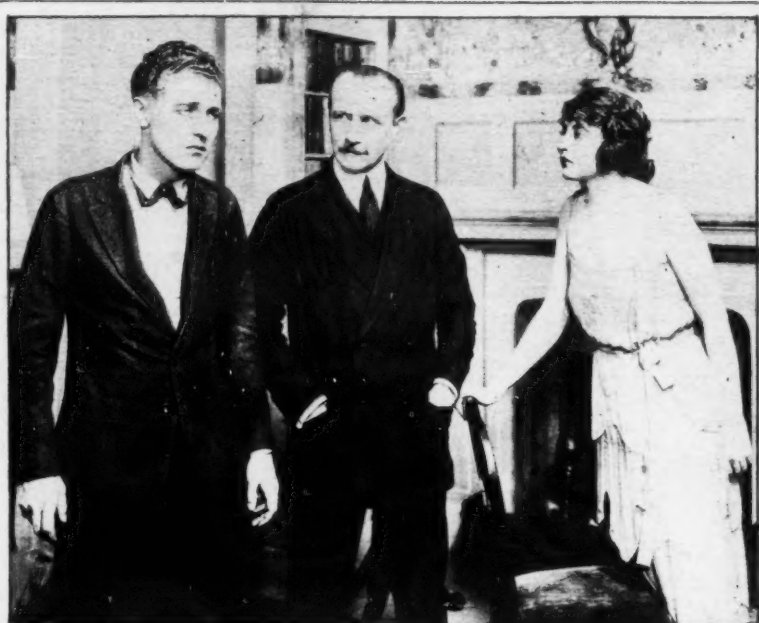

"Welcome Stranger." Essie (Mary Brandon) on her arrival in the New England village finds that she is unwelcome because of her race, and is being comforted by her father, Isidore Solomon (George Sidney) and other friends.

(Photo by White.)

"The Bad Man." Holbrook Blinn as Pancho Lopez, the Mexican bandit, in a room of the ranch trying to persuade Frances Carson (Lucia Pell) to abandon all her old friends and associations and live her life with him in beautiful Mexico.

(Photo Ira D. Schwarz.)

"The Bat." Scene from Act 1, in which the detective (Harrison Hunter) tries to force a confession of theft from the young man (Stuart Sage) whom the girl (Anne Morrison) tried to protect.

(Photo White Studio.)

"Mecca." Ali Shar, the strong man (Lionel I.) (Gladys Hanson) from her brother's.

Notable Plays That Have Won Popular Favor in London

"Little Old New York." Patricia O'Day (Genevieve Tobin) is telling Reilly, the old servitor (C. J. Kennedy) that she is going to flee to Boston.

(Photo Alfred Cheney Johnston.)

"Honeydew." John Dunsmure as Captain musical comedy made notable by his facial ing as well as by his gorgeous costume.

60612

g man (Lionel Braham), saving Sharazad n her brother's murderous attack.

"Just Suppose." Patricia Collinge as Linda Lee Stafford and Geoffrey Kerr as the Prince at the moment when the latter reveals his identity.

(Photo by Ira D. Schwarz.)

"The Mirage." Florence Reed as Rene Moreland advising Alison Bradshaw as Ruth Martin not to marry the man with whom she is in love.

(Photo by White.)

Notable ays That Won Popular r in 1920

ure as Captain Dick in a scene from the ole by his facial expression and clever act-ous costume.

(Photo by Apedg.)

"The Woman of Bronze." Margaret Anglin as Vivian Hunt surprising her husband (John Halliday) as he is embracing her rival (Mary Fowler).

(Photo by White.)

"Enter Madame." Gilda Varese being told by her husband (Norman Trevor) that he is tired of carrying her poodle dog around the world, and wants a divorce from her so that he may marry another girl.

(Photo by Ira D. Schwarz.)

"The First Year." The family council scene in Act 3. Left to right, are: Jim Murphy
as Dr. Anderson, William Sampson as Fred Livingston, Roberta Arnold as Mrs. Tommy Tucker, Maude Granger
as Mrs. Livingston, and Frank Craven as Tommy Tucker.

(Photo by Ira D. Schwarz.)

Figures and Scenes in Mexico, Which Under Its New Administration

The Plaza de Armas thronged with people on the occasion of the inauguration of Obregon as President of Mexico, Dec. 1, 1920.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

ALTHOUGH Mexico is our closest neighbor except Canada, the American public is in general not as familiar with it as with most of the countries of Europe. There has been so much unrest and civil strife in the troubled nation to the south of us and so much friction in its relations with our Government that we have been apt to ignore or forget that it is the seat of a great civilization, and that it has made strides in art, architecture and literature that give it a creditable place among the nations. This fact is emphasized by the pictures on these pages, showing some of the architectural beauties and adornments of the Mexican capital. The city is the centre of the national life in politics, religion, art, education and industry. Among its buildings are the National Museum, containing an unequalled collection of Mexican antiquities; the Academy of San Carlos, with many interesting and beautiful paintings, some by native artists; the National Library, with 250,000 books and manuscripts of great historical value, and the School of Mines, Medicines and Arts, the first named housed in a building of extraordinary beauty. Under the administration of the new President, Obregon, inaugurated Dec. 1, the country seems to have entered upon a new era of peace, progress and prosperity.

PRESIDENT OBREGON

New ruler of Mexico ready to take the oath of office, Dec. 1. Slightly behind him and to the right are General Calles and M. Jefe, Ministers in the new Cabinet.

(© Underwood & Underwood.)

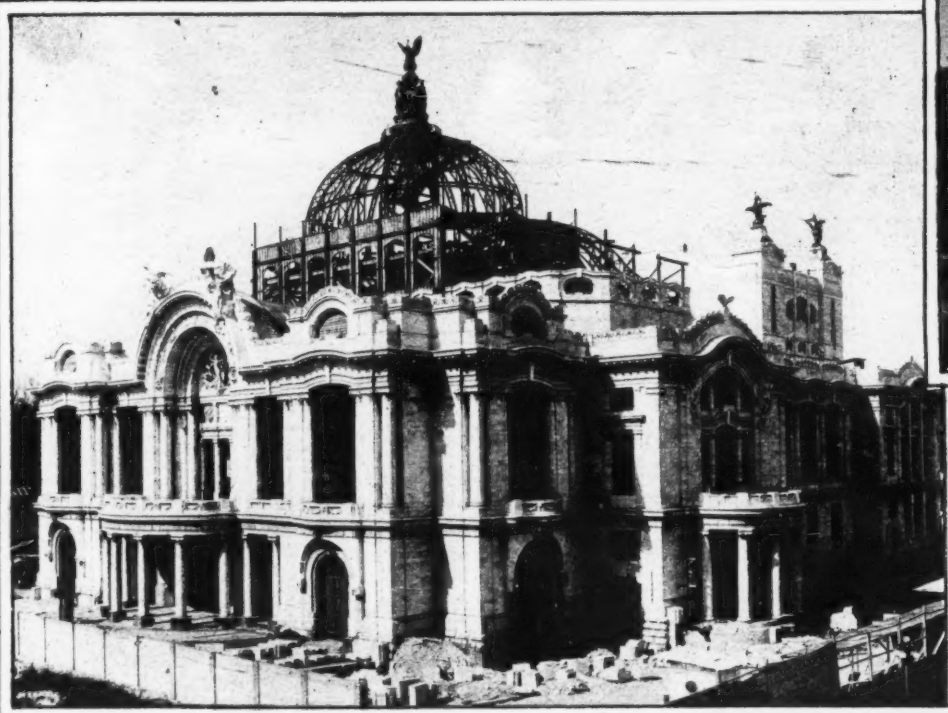

66614

tion Seems to Have Entered An Era of Peace and Prosperity

The Plaza de la Constitucion in Mexico City, the principal square of the Mexican capital. The cathedral on the north side of the plaza is the finest church edifice in the city and country. It is cruciform, 426 feet long by 203 feet wide, and has a superb altar piece and choir.

The National Theatre in Mexico City, now nearing completion. It is a splendid structure that was begun several years ago. It is to have a magnificent mosaic curtain estimated to cost one million dollars.

The Palace of Communications in Mexico City, one of the many handsome Federal structures of the capital. The architectural features of the city make it the finest of Latin America.

Monument to Juarez, one of the national heroes of Mexico. He was President from 1858 to 1872 and was of marked courage and ability.

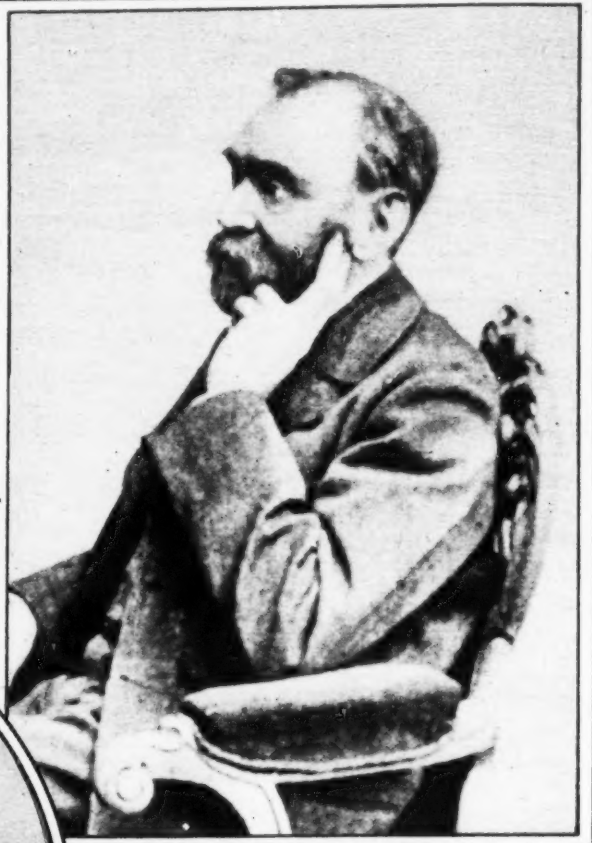

One of the handsome streets of the Mexican capital, that of De Roma y Lisboa. It is adorned with fine structures and is in the select residential quarter.
(Photos © Godoy.)

Founder and Recipients of Nobel Prizes

THE Nobel Foundation is one of the best-known funds ever created for the substantial recognition of men whose labors have advanced the cause of education and civilization. It was established by the will of Alfred Nobel, an eminent Swedish scientist, whose name is identified with many notable inventions, the chief of which was dynamite. He was born in Stockholm, Sweden, in 1833 and died in 1896. He left the sum of 30,600,000 kroner, the interest on which yields annually about $200,000. This is divided into five prizes of about $40,000 each, and these are bestowed annually as follows: One part to the person who shall have made the greatest discovery or invention in the domain of physics; one part to the person who shall have made the most important chemical discovery or improvement; one part to the person who shall have made the most important discovery in the domain of physiology or medicine; one part to the person who shall have produced in the realm of literature the most distinguished work of an idealistic tendency; and one part to the person who shall have most or best promoted the fraternity of nations and the abolition or diminution of standing armies and the formation and propagation of peace congresses. President Wilson received the latter prize this year. A Nobel prize was once bestowed on Theodore Roosevelt.

ALFRED NOBEL
Swedish inventor, who established a fund of 30,000,000 kroner, the interest of which was to be given yearly to benefactors of the race.

WOODROW WILSON

President of the United States, awarded a Nobel prize because of his work toward the establishment of peace.

LEON BOURGEOIS

French statesman, whose labors in the cause of peace made him the recipient of a Nobel prize.

PROFESSOR AUGUST KROGH
who has been awarded the Nobel prize in medical science for 1920. He resides in Copenhagen, Denmark.

(© Keystone View Co.)

CHARLES GUILLAUME
French scientist to whom was awarded the 1920 Nobel prize in physics. He is a Frenchman and head of International Bureau of Weights and Measures.

(© Mirzoeff.)

CARL SPITTELER
Swiss poet, who received the 1919 Nobel prize for literature. He is 75 years old and best known as the author of "Prometheus" and "Epimetheus."

KNUT HAMSEN
Norwegian writer, whose most famous work is his novel, "Hunger," and recipient of 1920 prize for literature.

Mammoth Caterpillar Tractor and Great Army Guns

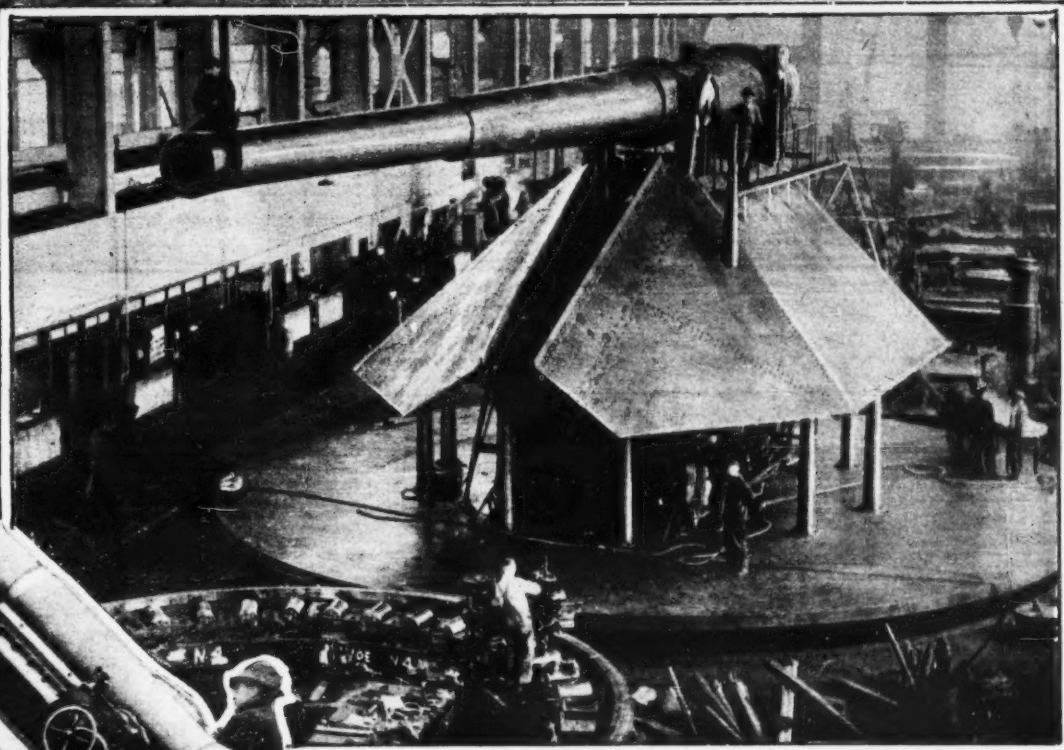

Marvelous auto truck that can be transformed almost instantly into a caterpillar tractor or vice versa. The caterpillar treads are carried on shelves at the side when not in use. As a motor truck the machine can carry a 155-mm. gun at fourteen miles an hour.

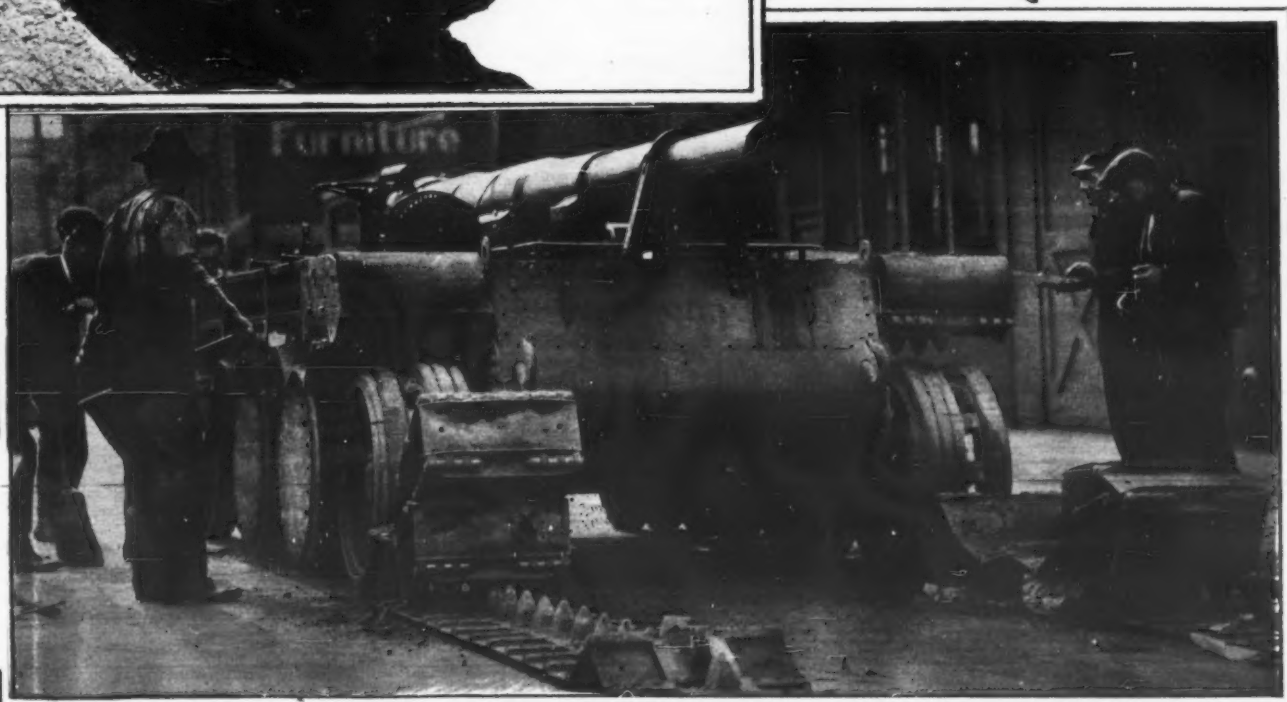

Caterpillar tractor carrying a 155-mm. gun and negotiating a hill of 45 degrees at a speed of ten miles an hour. The machine has met every test applied to it by the makers, the Front Drive Motor Company of Hoboken, N. J.

The treads being put on the wheels of the caterpillar tractor. These are used on rough or hilly ground. On a level surface the treads can be taken off and the vehicle changed into an auto truck with an increase of nearly fifty per cent. in speed.

(Photos © Underwood & Underwood.)

New 16-inch disappearing gun just completed at the Watertown Arsenal, Massachusetts. It can throw a shell weighing 2,700 pounds 35 miles. The bomb-proof shed built on either side deflects missiles aimed at the gun.

Climactic Scenes in Some of the Most Successful

"Way Down East." Gripping scene where Ann Moore (Lillian Gish) is sent away from Squire Bartlett's (Burr McIntosh) house into the blizzard.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." Hyde (John Barrymore) attacks his fiancée (Martha Mansfield) in the final scene of this powerful picture.

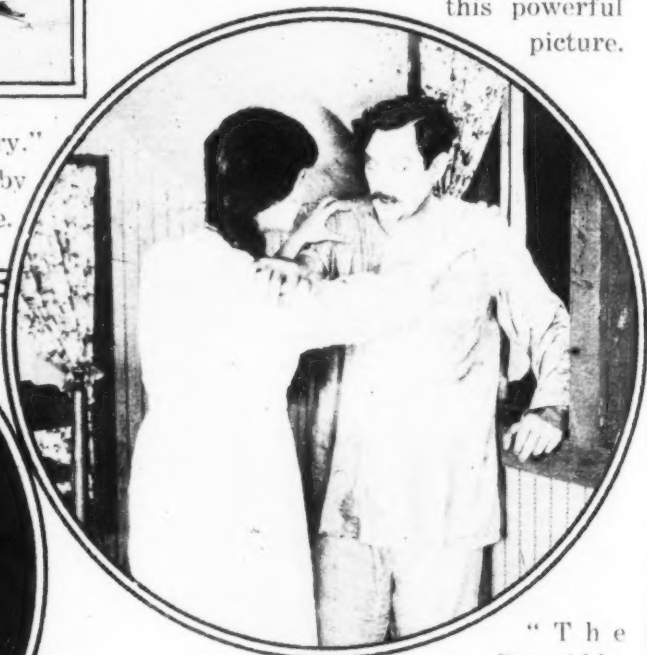

"The Mollycoddle." Douglas Fairbanks in the leading role in one of the remarkable acrobatic feats that have made him famous.

"While New York Sleeps." The remarried wife (Estelle Taylor) discovering in the midnight burglar (Marc MacDermott) her former husband, believed to be dead.

"Passion." Screen version of "Du Barry." Struggle of the ill-fated favorite (played by Pola Negri) on the platform of the guillotine.

"The Devil's Garden." Scene in the screen reproduction of the celebrated novel. Interpreted by Lionel Barrymore and Doris Rankin.

"Behind the Door." Captain Oscar Krug (Hobart Bosworth), in command of U. S. destroyer, discovers that the submarine on which his gun is trained is commanded by his mortal enemy.

"Humoresque." Vera Gordon as the mother discovers that her prayers are answered and that her boy is a genius.

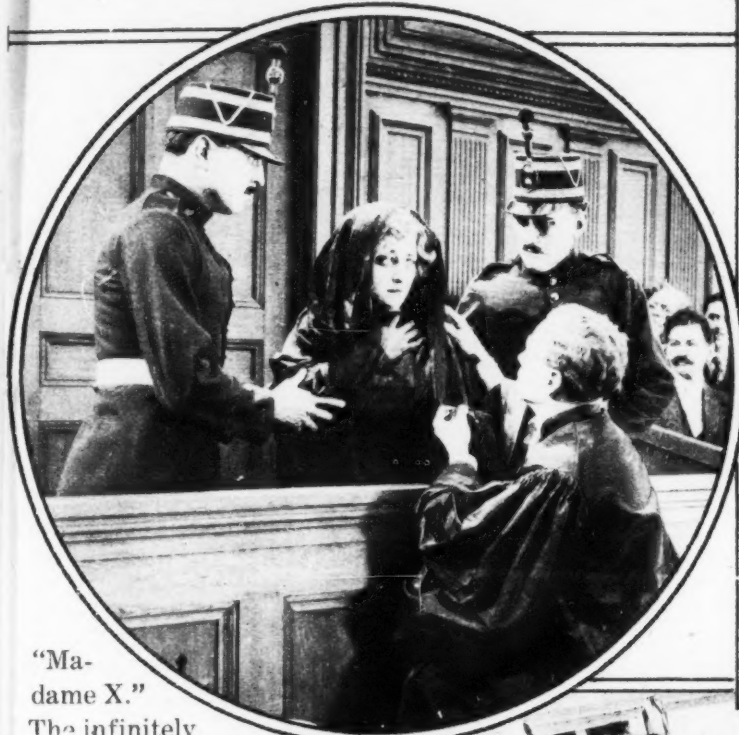

"Something to Think About." Theodore Roberts as the blacksmith deliberately blinds himself when he learns that his daughter has jilted a rich art collector for a poor farmer's boy.

Photoplays That Have Been Presented in 1920

"Madame X."

The infinitely sad mother (played by Pauline Frederick) on trial for her life is comforted by her counsel, her own son, of whose identity she is unaware.

"The Conqueror."
President
Lincoln
(Nicholas Schroeli)
swearing
Milt Shanks
(Lionel Barrymore) into the U. S. Secret Service.

"Male and Female."
Gloria Swanson as Lady
Mary, fighting for her life in the cabin of the shipwrecked yacht.

"The Misleading
Lady." Bert Lytell as Jack Craigen after kidnapping Helen Steele (Lucy Cotton) starts his taming process by forcibly washing her face.

"Over the Hill."
Mary Carr as the mother is reunited with the prodigal son, played by John Walker.

"If I Were King." King Louis telling Francois Villon (William Farnum) "The price of the girl is your victory for France."

"Idols of Clay." Mae Murray, as the Sea Island girl,
bids farewell to the young sculptor (David Howell) as he leaves to return to Europe.

"The Penalty."
Lon Chaney as Blizzard, the leg-
less incarnation
of wickedness,
whose machina-
tions threatened to destroy the city.

"Why Change Your Wife?" Beth (Gloria Swanson) and Sally (Bebe Daniels), first and second wives of the badly injured Robert Gordon (Thomas Meighan), fight for his possession.

Recent Internal Developments in Soviet Russia

Map of Kamchatka and adjoining territory. It was in this district that the territorial concession lies that was alleged to have been granted by the Soviet Government to W. B. Vanderlip.

Celebration in Moscow in honor of the sailors of the Red fleet. The parade took place in the main square of the city and was witnessed by an enormous number of spectators, who warmly applauded the marching sailors.

NIKOLAI LENIN
Dictator of Soviet Russia, snapshotted by an American photographer in a recent interview.

W. B. VANDERLIP
American explorer, said to have received large territorial concessions in Siberia.
(© Wide World Photo.)

THE Soviet Government of Russia is striving desperately to remedy as far as it can the terrible economic conditions that prevail in that distracted country. Transportation has broken down, the crops are insufficient or are so closely hoarded by the peasants that they are largely unavailable for the cities, and the dreadful sanitary conditions that prevail in the centres of population have borne a harvest of disease and death. In an effort to better the situation, compulsory labor has been decreed for all classes of the population, both men and women. None are exempt, and an eminent scientist or artist may find himself working side by side with the most illiterate and brutish of the population. The pictures shown herewith were taken by Mr. Kubes, a Fox Film Corporation photographer, in connection with an Americanization film, "The Face at Your Window," which is to be issued in co-operation with a Congressional committee.

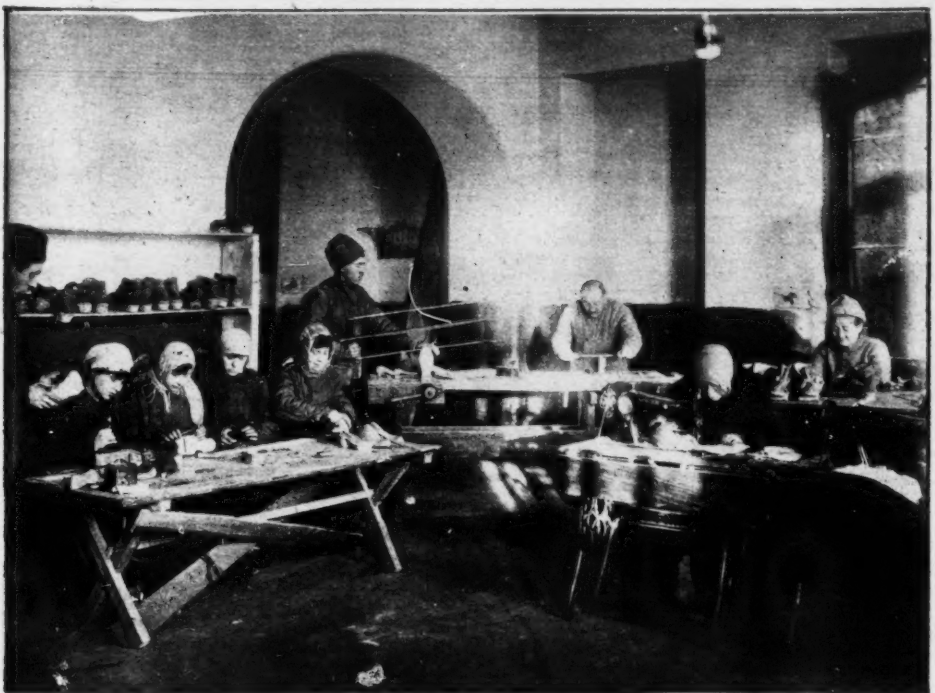

Military training institute in Petrograd, with a group of students before it. While a considerable part of the army has been mobilized for labor purposes, great stress is still laid on military proficiency, with a view to further conflicts.

An illustration of the universal labor enforced on the people of Russia. This is a food distributing station, with its quota of cooks, waitresses and helpers.

Shoemaker and carpenter shop at Petrograd, with men and women at work. If they do not know the trades, they have to learn them, for none are exempt from labor.

Tailor shop at Petrograd. Caste distinction has been abolished and some of the workmen may formerly have been college professors or high civic or military officials.

The intelligentsia, which in Russia includes professors, artists and the like, working to clear the Nevsky Prospect, Petrograd, of snow.

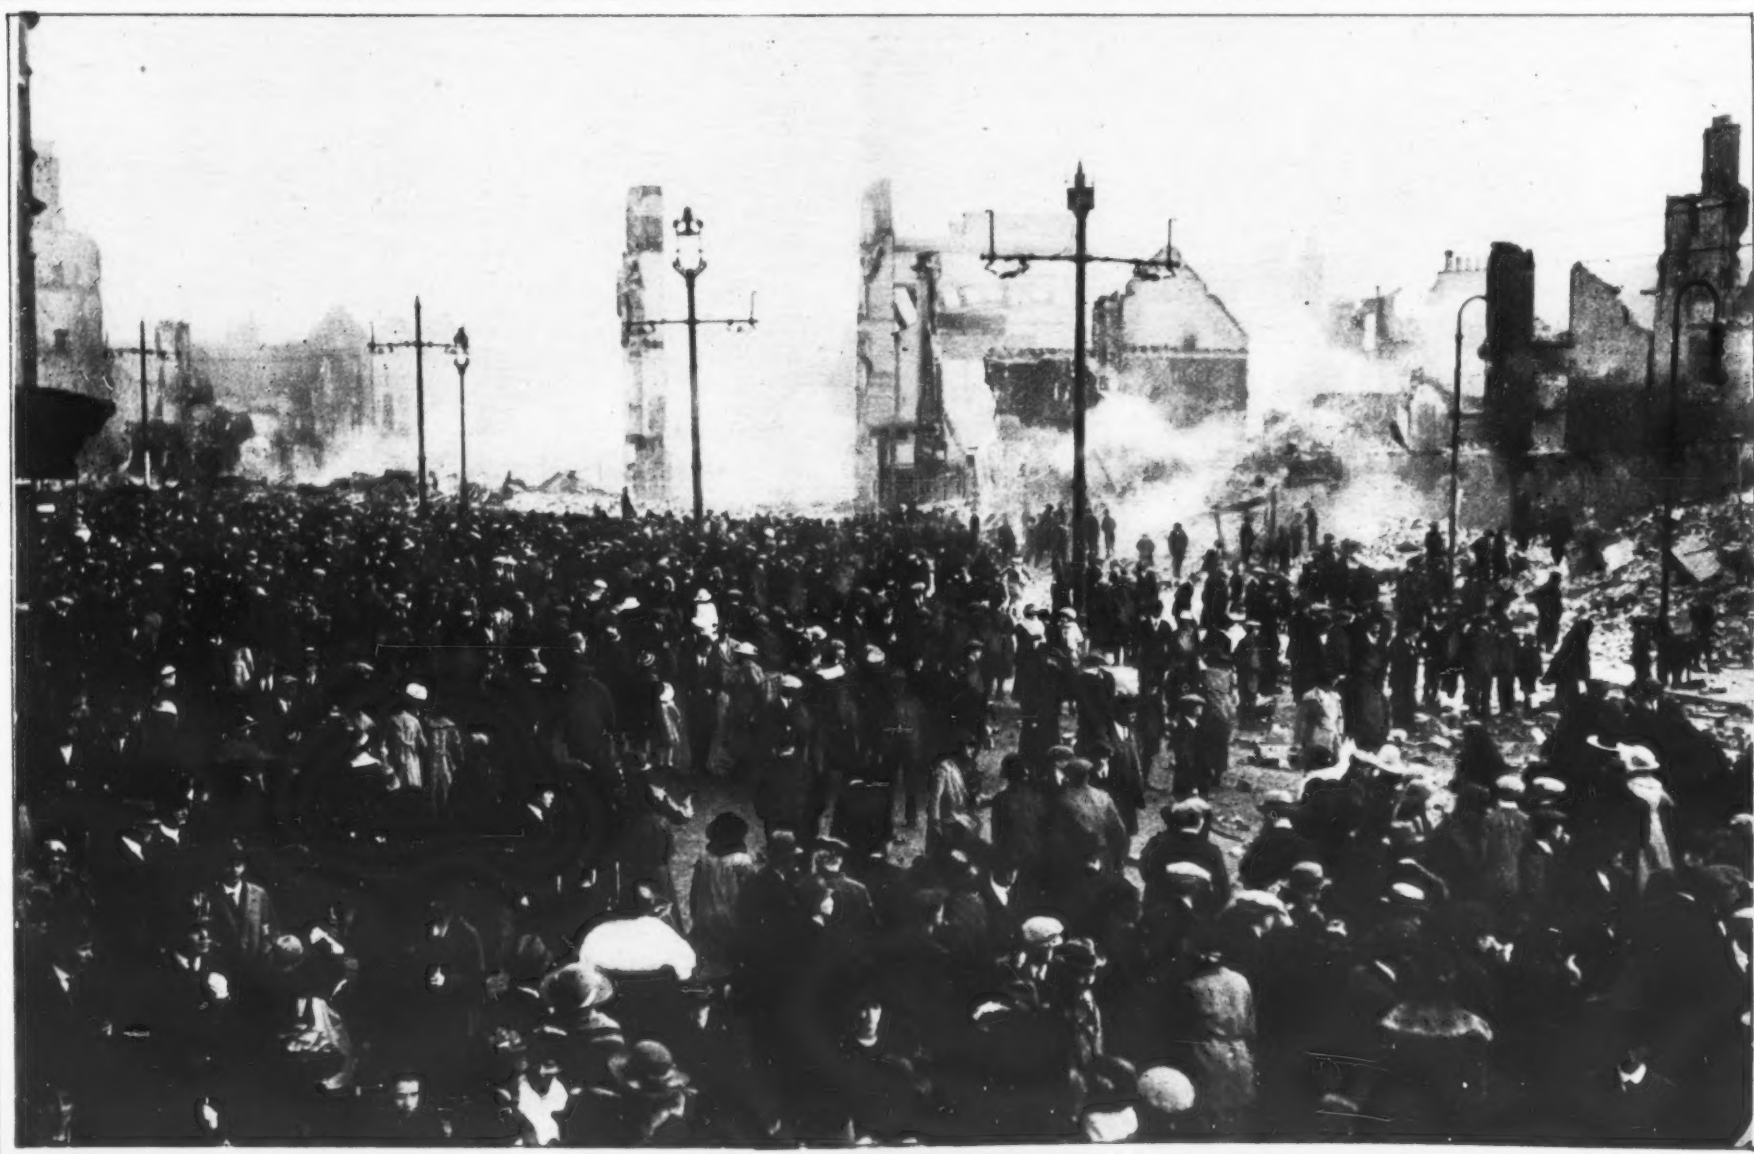

The Soviet Government has taken special pleasure in putting the intelligent and cultivated classes at the hardest kind of manual labor. The latter would probably not object to do their share of the common work, but, by deliberate design, the most arduous and muscle-taxing tasks are reserved for them, such as clearing the streets and acting as public scavengers.

Burning of Cork, Third City of Ireland in Importance

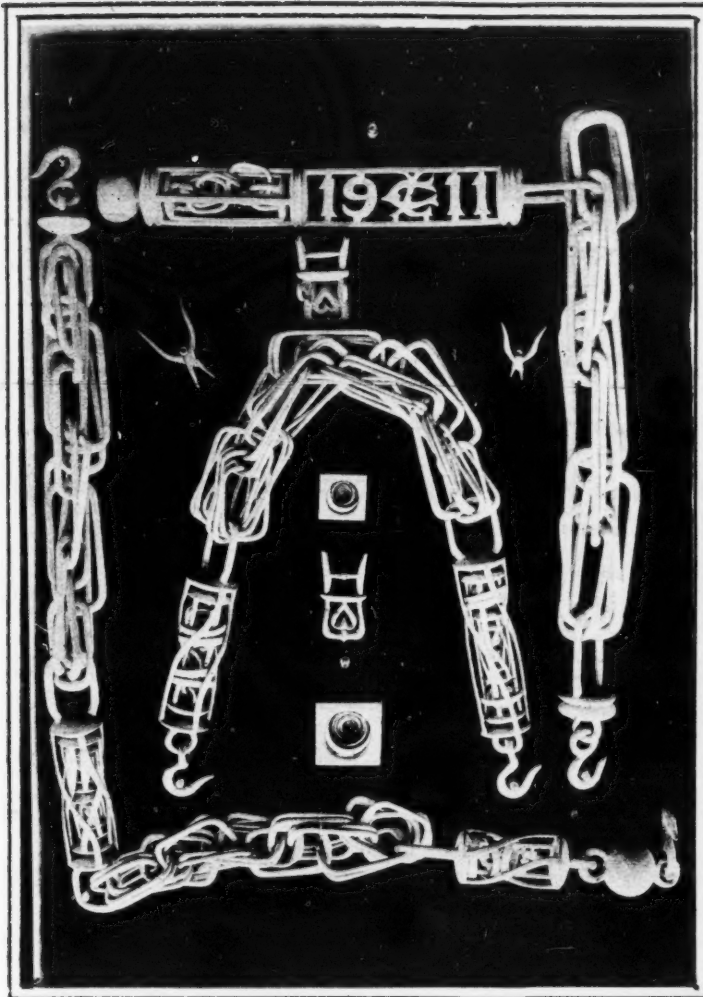

Smoking ruins of Patrick Street, the most important thoroughfare in Cork, after it had been swept by the flames that destroyed a large part of the city. The conflagration broke out on the night of Dec. 11 and soon had got beyond the control of the firemen. The fire was finally stopped at the banks of the River Lee that flows through the city.

Throngs standing about the ruins of great buildings in Cork that had been reduced by the fire to masses of masonry and twisted steel. The fire covered more than five acres in the heart of the city, and the property damage was estimated at from $15,000,000 to $30,000,000. The origin of the fire has been variously claimed as accidental and incendiary.

(Photos by International.)

Marvelously delicate and complicated work done by a jack-knife. The maker, Mr. George W. Lockwood, used no other instrument. Each one of these separate carvings was made out of a solid piece of wood, and the patience and ingenuity needed were almost incredible.

Additional specimens of Mr. Lockwood's handiwork which evoke wonder that so much beauty can be brought from a single stick of wood. A noted sculptor, viewing it, exclaimed: "That's not whittling. That's art."

Ingenious and Complicated Carving—

Mr. George W. Lockwood at work with his jack-knife on the plain stick of wood, part of which has already submitted to the magic of his blade. He is a successful business man and carving is his hobby.

Animal Clinic

Animal clinic in the veterinary high school in Berlin. Household pets afflicted with all sorts of troubles are brought there by their anxious owners and receive as skillful treatment by expert practitioners as that accorded to human beings. The applicants are here seen waiting in a long line for their turn. To prevent clashes the dogs are required to be held in leash, although in their weakened condition few feel in the mood for fighting.

(© Keystone View Co.)

POPULAR Selznick Stars who regularly appear in splendid photoplay creations that measure up to the high standard of screen entertainment demanded by theatres where quality rules:—

See These Splendid Productions
When the Opportunity Affords

WILLIAM FAVERSHAM

in
The Hobart Henley Production
"THE SIN THAT WAS HIS"

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN

in
"PLEASURE SEEKERS"

EUGENE O'BRIEN

in
"BROADWAY AND HOME"

OWEN MOORE

in
"THE CHICKEN IN THE CASE"

CONWAY TEARLE

in
"SOCIETY SNOBS"
A Hobart Henley Production

MARTHA MANSFIELD
IN A SPLENDID NEW PRODUCTION

1921

N o r m a
— a n d —
C o n s t a n c e

Talmadge

Appearing in

First National Attractions